What we do

We support our members to inform government policies and develop solutions that optimise businesses and economic outcomes in New Zealand and Australia by:

Helping our members to stay abreast of industry issues and share their knowledge

Communicating with our members and government stakeholders about trends, issues and opportunities in ways that are most relevant to them

Providing members with professional development opportunities that enhance the industry's capacity and reputation

Facilitating and contributing to government consultations with industry

Representing and advocating for our members in key conversations with government agencies

Promoting world class APIs, cyber security and interoperable open standards to business and government stakeholders

What is a Digital Service Provider?

Digital Service Providers, also known as DSPs, create, sell and use software solutions to securely capture, transmit and share information and are commonly used in the day to day management of a business and its employees.

Examples of digital service providers that DSPANZ represents:
- Tax software
- eInvoicing software
- Payroll software
- EmployTech solutions
- Message transformation providers
- Regulatory technology (RegTech) solutions

Our history and track record

We were previously known as the Australian Business Software Industry Association (ABSIA) and have played a central role in the development of many key digital initiatives:

- Single Touch Payroll
- ELS to SBR
- SuperStream
- Digital Service Provider Operational Framework
- Peppol e-invoicing
- Security Standard for Add-on Marketplaces
- ANZ Industry Practice Statements.

In 2021 we established a presence in NZ and rebranded to better serve and reflect our trans-Tasman membership.
